FIRST, THE QUESTION

Is it actually time?

Most kitchens send clear signals before you replace. If you recognize a few of these, an upgrade is worth pricing out.

1

Damage you can't undo

Cracks, chips, or burns only spread. Once the surface is compromised, it will not get better.

2

Stains that won't come out

Worn stone and laminate absorb spills. When scrubbing stops working, the material is spent.

3

You're already remodeling

New cabinets on old counters age the whole room. Done together, the kitchen looks brand new.

4

You're selling soon

Countertops are the first thing buyers notice, and new stone is a high-return upgrade.

5

You just don't love it

You look at your kitchen every day. If the counter still bugs you, that is reason enough.

WHAT TO EXPECT

A replacement is faster than most people think

1

Free estimate

Share a photo or your measurements and get a real number on your actual kitchen.

2

Hand-pick your slab

You choose the exact piece of stone. The one you pick is the one that gets installed.

3

Template

We measure your space precisely so the stone fits your kitchen exactly.

4

Fabrication and install

Your slab is cut and finished, then installed. Old countertop removal can be included.

TIMELINE

From first measure to installed countertops is usually about one to two weeks.

DO IT RIGHT

How to upgrade without regrets

1

See the real slab in person

Photos never match the real stone. Movement and color vary piece to piece.

2

Match the stone to how you cook

Busy kitchen? Lean toward durable, low-maintenance options. We will walk you through it.

3

Get one all-inclusive price

Material, fabrication, edges, cutouts and installation included, with no surprises.

4

Buy factory-direct

Skipping the retail markup puts more of your budget into the actual stone.

OUR PROMISE

You choose the stone, we handle everything else, from template to installation.
